

DC Shorts™ Keep it Short. Keep it Reel.™

DC Shorts gives all entries feedback from the judges—a point which impressed MovieMaker Magazine to name us as “one of 20 festivals worth an entry fee,” and “one of the leading film festivals.”

DC Shorts turns the spotlight on truly independent short films, created by new and established filmmakers in an era when the art of filmmaking is opening to all. We select films from every genre for our competition screening. After each screening, filmmakers have the opportunity to speak to the audience as part of a moderated panel.

Filmmakers who attend DC Shorts enjoy fabulous parties, city tours, and are provided with housing, meals and local transportation. But most importantly, they enjoy the opportunity to meet and learn from other filmmakers — an experience that comes from the premier showcase dedicated to short films and the people who make them.

Submit your short film or screenplay online today at dcshorts.com

Short Film Competition

DC Shorts spotlights truly independent short films, created by new and established filmmakers. Many cash prizes. All films receive feedback.

Screenplay Competition

A different kind of script competition. All scripts receive feedback, and finalists will be performed before a live audience. Winner receives $2,000 to make their film!

HURRY!
Entry deadline
is May 1, 2009